- ◇ Friends love their Library.
- ◇ Friends foster relationship between CLAV and the community.
- ◇ Friends spread the word about the resources and services of the Library.
- ◇ Library advocates & ambassador – they tell their personal story about why the Library is important to them and talk about the value and importance of libraries for generations to come.
- ◇ Friends raise funds for the Library for the purchase of book and services through book sales, special fundraisers, membership dues and donations.

How Much Time Does it Require to be a Fired Up Friend!

There is only one membership meeting a year. At this meeting the activities for the coming year are discussed and planned. New ideas are welcome at any time throughout the year. Whether you want to tackle a big project or donate a few hours of your time, there are a variety of ways to serve.

Level One Members:

With just a few volunteer hours squeezed into a busy schedule, level one members can make a big difference by lending a helping hand with Library activities.

Level Two Members:

These members are ready to take on a challenge and volunteer to be responsible for specific projects. Those interested might manage an existing fundraiser independently or work with a group to create a new fundraiser for the Library.

Level Three Members:

The Friends of the Library always welcome new board members who provide leadership.
