FOREWORD

This is the first yearbook Arnold High School has produced for many years. Its completion has involved the cooperation, coordination, and intelligent efforts of the entire administration, faculty, and classes. All were indispensable.

Now that our yearbook is off the presses we have begun to realize that it is not an end in itself, but a means to an end — a means to greater and finer attainment in the classrooms, mills, offices, and homes of the future.

DEDICATED

To the fond memory of those who died that we might continue in our American Way of Life

"Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

John 15:13

ALMA MATER

SCHOOL BOARD

The members and officers of the board of education of the Arnold Schools are: Mr. John R. Fowler, president; Mr. Peter J. Malick, vice-president; Miss Emma F. Scaries, secretary (on leave of absence); Mr. Pete Juliano, acting secretary; Mr. Louis C. Springer, treasurer; Mr. Andrew Romito, solicitor; Mrs. Rose Baiger; Mr. Anthony P. Bianco; Mr. Geno Bussotti; Mr. Anthony Pituch; Mr. S. A. Martin served while Mr. Juliano was on military leave. The members of the school board meet to decide the many questions that arise in the operation of a public school system. They must plan for months, sometimes years ahead to insure an efficient and well-balanced educational program. It is their responsibility to supervise the welfare and all activities of all the pupils. They are the school's most ardent fans at athletic contests and enjoy the plays and other programs presented throughout the year. They have a serious and important work to do in shaping the future of our children; and they do that work well.

H. L. HOLSTE
Superintendent of Schools

Congratulations to the Class of 1946:

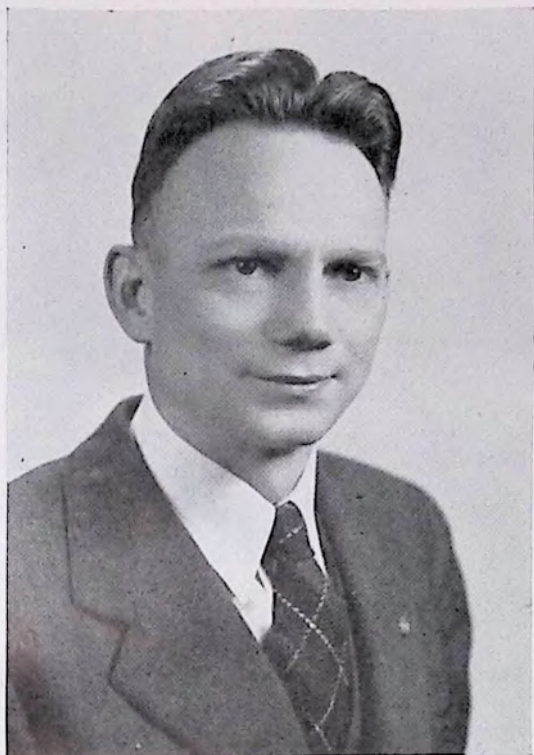

You have graduated in the first year of peace following a great world war. Youth has been tried as never before and found equal to every demand of war, on the sea and land and in the air.

The years ahead will call for self-sacrifice and idealism for the sublimation of self if we are to attain the highest things of life. If the ideals for which we fought are to become real and lasting you who are graduating must assume your share of responsibility in the post-war world. A great era is beginning.

I wish you all good luck and may you be worthy sons and daughters of Arnold High School.

H. L. HOLSTE,
Superintendent of Schools

JUNIORS

"Buy a magazine and put me through high school!" This was the popular saying of the junior class when they were in ninth grade.

"When are we going to do something?" they queried all through their sophomore year. The Sophomore Fiesta was the gala occasion.

Peanuts! Lions! Pennants! Tickets! the battle cry of the junior class this year. The ultimate objective: the annual junior-senior prom.

A familiar scene at Friday evening football games — fair or stormy weather — Juniors climbing over bleachers with boxes, bags, or baskets of — ? You guessed it. Peanuts!

A few highlights of the year 1945-46 were the Theater Party, the George Washington Birthday Dance, the class play, "You Said It," and the junior-senior prom.

The George Washington Birthday Dance was held in the gaily decorated gym. Crowned King and Queen of Hearts by Martha Washington, portrayed by Dolores Zuber, were Buddy Hanna and Dolores Ponsart. The Virginia Reel was a novelty of the evening.

The Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Crystal Ball Room of the Hotel Schenley. Tireless effort exerted in the various selling schemes throughout the year proved well worth while, for everyone had an enjoyable evening dancing to the rhythmic melodies of Brad Hunt and his orchestra.

To represent the juniors, the following were chosen officers:

President	Buddy Hanna
Vice President	Robert Coury
Secretary	Mary Alice Hunger
Treasurer	Raymond Ricci
Advisers	Miss Gribbs, Miss Zorena

The class motto: "Climb, Though the Rocks Be Rugged."

The class flower: Laurel.

The class colors: Green and Gold.

SOPHOMORES

Our senior high school careers started as the school bell rang on the morning of September 3, 1945. At that time, there were one hundred and fifty-six potential juniors enrolled in our class; however, in strength of character and of mentality we are stronger than in mere numbers.

When football season opened, seven sophomores were listed on the varsity squad. One representative of the sophomore class played on the basketball varsity; many others held positions with the Junior Varsity.

Holidays during the year brought the customary parties and festivities; and with the first signs of spring we began making plans for our most important activity of the year, the Sophomore Dance. This dance, a gay affair, launched a long campaign to raise the necessary funds for the Junior-Senior Prom of 1947, which will be treated at length in next year's Arlion.

The sophomore class was under the leadership of the following officers and advisers:

President	John Biss
Vice President	Edward Sharick
Secretary	Geraldine Kuster
Treasurer	Marilyn DeSimone
Advisers	Miss Margaret Morrison, Mr. Paul Rosati

Class flower: American Beauty Rose

Class colors: Green and White.

Class motto: "Always forward, never backward."

BAND

The high school band, symbolizing school spirit, is an indispensable organization of every high school. School activities would certainly be monotonous if it were not for the stirring music of our band. The high school band has provided entertainment at all the football games, both before the game and at the half. These performances in the band's colorful orange and blue uniforms were enjoyed immensely by the spectators. The Arnold High School Band has also played for the home basketball games and has participated in numerous parades held in this district. The band rehearses four times weekly and plays for high school assemblies and pep meetings.

Every year, our band presents a spring concert which is always well attended. This year, our band was chosen to play for the Allegheny Valley Safety Council meeting in New Kensington. A notable event in which a group of our band members were chosen to participate was the Westmoreland County Band Festival, held in Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

The band consists of thirty-seven members and is under the direction of Mr. Glenn H. Davis.

ORCHESTRA

The Arnold High School Orchestra is composed of fourteen members, under the direction of Mr. Glenn H. Davis. Rehearsals of this small but efficient musical organization are held on Wednesday and Friday of each week. Music between acts for the junior and senior class plays was provided by our high school orchestra.

The motto of this musical group is "Quality, not quantity."

The roster of the Arnold High School Orchestra follows:

Violins: Milan Filcik, Walter Sakal, John Kominko, Eugene Miller.

Clarinets: Mary Alice Hunger, Dom Linardi.

Trumpets: Robert Butler, Peter Carlisi.

Trombone: Pete Conte.

Baritone: Sam Lamendola.

Horn: Alex Costanza.

Alto Saxophone: Anthony Giancola.

String Bass: Tony Lamendola.

Drums: John Lawrence.

Seated, left to right—G. Rich, E. Miller, W. Sakal, J. Kimonko, M. Filcik, A. Giancola, A. Costanza, M. A. Hunger, D. Linardi, R. Butler, P. Carlisi.
Standing—S. Lamendola, P. Conte, T. Lamendola, J. Lawrence.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The Arnold High School A Capella Choir consists of forty-nine students. Members of this group were selected by try-outs. Choir rehearsals are held five times weekly.

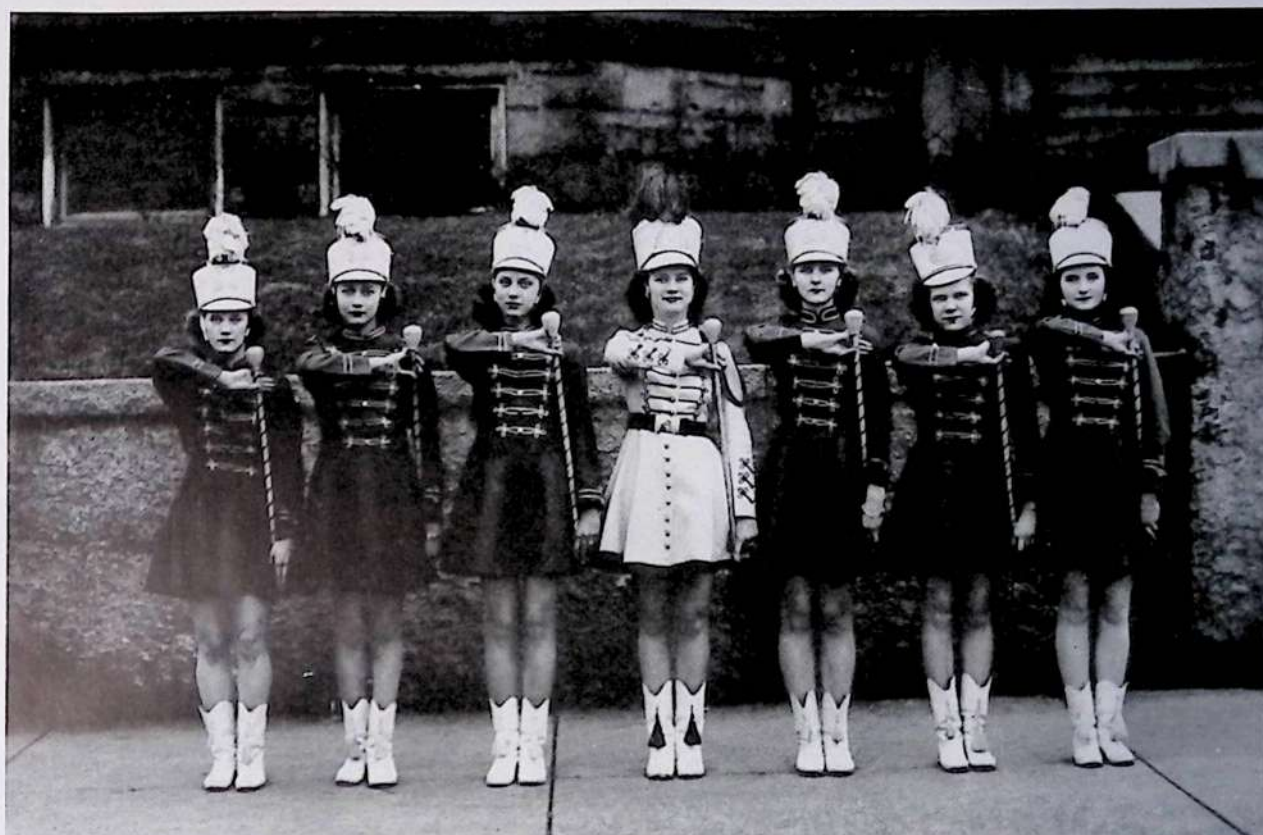

One of the highlights of the choir year was the program given by them during assembly period. During the Christmas season, the blended voices of the choir were heard singing carols in the halls of our school. This year a group of our choir members participated in the Westmoreland County Choir Festival held in Mount Pleasant, Pennsylvania.

The A Capella Choir, in cooperation with the band, presents an annual spring concert. As a conclusion to the year's activities, the A Capella Choir participates in the baccalaureate service.

The choir is also directed by Mr. Glenn H. Davis.

MAJORETTES

Dressed in their snappy uniforms of blue and white, the Arnold High School majorettes were tops in the valley. Their brisk steps and routines created quite a sensation. Rain or shine, the majorettes' demonstrations were a part of every football game. Chartered buses provided transportation to games at Ford City and Tarentum.

The girls practiced arduously on the athletic field many afternoons during activity periods. Much of their success must be credited to the capable direction of Mr. Glenn Davis and their leader, Betty Jane Crider.

Not only did they provide entertainment, but both before and after their exhibition they were an active group in the cheering section.

The group consisted of these girls:

Senior	Betty Jane Crider.
Juniors	Patricia Pfeiffer, Henrietta Tilmans
Sophomores	Dorothy Barr, Lois Bartholf,
	Carol Beveridge, Dolores Butz.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleading squad of 1946 consisted of six peppy students:

Senior Carolyn Becker

Juniors Lorraine Flinn, Buddy Hanna

Sophomores Lois Flinn, Geraldine Kuster, Richard Flaherty

Their adviser, Miss Margaret Morrison, assisted in their practicing and in arousing school spirit.

With personality plus, enthusiasm galore, and spirit high, this squad faithfully led our students in cheering at all games throughout the school year.

As a fitting climax for a successful season, they attended the annual cheerleader's party at Tarentum High School. The party in honor of them all, was attended by the cheerleaders in this vicinity.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The outstanding scholastic honor in Arnold High School is membership in the National Honor Society. This organization has been in existence since May 14, 1927, when Arnold received its charter from the National Council.

Members in this group are chosen by the faculty on the basis of character, service, and leadership. This year twelve seniors and three juniors were elected.

The purposes of this honorary society are the developing of well-balanced personalities, the desire for growth of higher ideals, and the training of young people within their influence.

In order to discover and serve the needs of the commercial students and to encourage scholastic achievements, this organization, known as the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Arnold High School, was organized in the year 1937.

Throughout the years of service the J.C.C. has done much to improve the commercial department through supplying additional equipment for student use. The organization has been awarding 40, 50, and 60 word typing pins to pupils achieving those levels. Thus a keen competition has been developed in the field of typing. A medal of honor is awarded to the senior member having the highest scholastic record at graduation.

The meetings are held once a week. Business is discussed, and programs are presented. These programs consist of skits and plays based on personality, manners, and social and business interests. Special activities included courtesy week, a movie on personality, Christmas card sales, and cookie sales.

With the cooperation of the entire organization, the activities have been very successful. The officers for the second semester of 1945-46 are:

Girl Reserve Club

The Girl Reserve Club is affiliated with the Y.W.C.A., an international organization. Its main purpose is to help Girl Reserves face life squarely and to find and give the best. Any girl in senior high school is eligible for membership.

Informal meetings are held twice a month in the high school auditorium, where the program offered affords opportunity for girls to grow and develop, both individually and socially.

A few highlights of G.R. activities in 1945-46 were a candlelight service, informal initiation for all new members, a Girl Reserve dance, theater party, and a vegetable dance. Service projects included a Christmas party for some under privileged children in our community, and a house-to-house canvass for the infantile paralysis drive.

Plans for the programs are formulated by the Cabinet.

This year's club was under the able leadership of the following officers and advisers:

President	Mildred Zemleduch
Vice President	Genevieve Gates
Secretary	Ruth Graff
Treasurer	Mary Alice Hunger
Advisers	Miss Florence Ford, Miss Elinor Keefer

ARLION

The 1946 "Arlion" is the first yearbook that Arnold High School has published in twelve years. Without the determination and cooperation of the staff, their hours of steady work, and the supervision of their sponsor, Mr. Joseph J. Pallone, the "Arlion" could not have been produced.

The "Arlion" staff of 1946 hopes this book will afford many hours of enjoyment to its readers, and it also hopes that future yearbook staff members will find as much real fun — along with the hard work — as this year's members have had. To the Arlionites of the future — the best of luck from the Arlionites of 1946!

BROADCASTER

The "Broadcaster," the Arnold High School newspaper, is published by the journalism class. This class was organized in September, 1938, and since that time the main purpose has been to produce the paper throughout the school year. Before this time it had been published intermittently for six years.

This newspaper originated under the direction of Mr. Abe Laufe, and after his leaving for military service the publication was continued under the leadership of Miss Florence Ford. At the present time the "Broadcaster" is under the management of Miss Amy Charles.

ATHLETICS

Athletic Staff

From the last weeks of August, all through September, October and into November, Coach Tannas worked unceasingly in his efforts to put on the field every week a football team prepared to hand out and receive severe punishment. Coach McGuire assisted him then; and Coach Tannas assisted Mr. McGuire when in late November basketball season rolled around and Coach McGuire began placing five good men on the hardwood who knew their plays and knew how to execute them. Then again this spring, as he does every spring, Coach Fleegeer began converting his boys into a baseball team. Many points driven home by the Coach will no doubt be of value to these fellows in any walk of life.

Equipment is a big issue; and to Mr. Pallone and Mr. Ventura belongs mainly the credit of having the best in equipment. To Mr. Pallone goes the credit for having games scheduled, officials hired and tickets sold.

Upon the shoulders of these men falls the responsibility for a successful year round athletic program.

The greatest reward these men can ask is not necessarily a victorious season, but rather, the satisfaction of seeing a job well done and of seeing boys become men physically as well as mentally.

Football

The Arnold High School football squad tutored by the coach, Mr. Alex Tannas, and assistant coach, Mr. L. F. McGuire, began its season early by opening its training at Etna Springs Park, two miles from Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania.

The Lions launched their 1945 campaign by playing host to the blue-and-white-clad gridders of Leechburg High. The opener was played under the lights at the Leslie Memorial Stadium on September 7. Wesley Johnston scored Arnold's first touchdown of the season. The score at the end of the first half was Arnold 6, Leechburg 6. In the final quarter Arnold changed the tide with Louis Sukala scoring, and the game ended with Arnold taking their first, 12 to 6.

The Orange and Blue ran wild in their next encounter by drubbing Rankin to the tune of 32 to 12. Wes Johnston and Jack Biss played bang-up ball for the Lions, with each tallying twice. Peter Cropcho also came through by snagging a pass to tally.

 Second row—J. Parshook, P. Martin, M. Peconi, W. Johnston, G. Zimmerman, J. Biss, A. Latona, A. Marsico, G. Shaheen.
 Third row—Head Coach, A. Tannas; Equipment Custodian N. Ventura; L. Sukala, C. Stevenson, R. Haser, T. Coury, S. Torchia, F. Gigler, Assistant Coach L. F. McGuire.
 Fourth row—R. Buono, Manager; V. Birty, R. Gagliardi, L. Lamie, Manager; L. Ghia, A. Kasavage, M. Nicastro, C. Provenzo, Manager.

The Arnoldites next traveled to Scottsdale to defeat the Scottmen on a soggy gridiron. In the waning seconds of a hard fought contest "Tate" Sukala intercepted Tom Gryczyk's pass on Arnold's 30 yard line and behind superb blocking dashed a full seventy yards for the lone tally of the game. Johnston was stopped at center on the attempted conversion point; and before the Scottsdale team could line up for their next play, the game ended. This 6-0 victory marked the Lions' third straight win of the season.

With a crowd of four thousand fans looking on, the Tarentum Red Cats surprised the Arnold High Lions by handing them their first setback of the season, 20-6. In the first period Wesley Johnston crossed the last stripe alone after a beautifully executed 66-yard sprint. Sypula scored for Tarentum, and Holliday converted to make the score 7-6 at half-time. Two bad passes from center set the stage for the final two touchdowns.

The Tannasmen next invaded Dreshar stadium to trim East Deer in the last forty-five seconds of playing time. After an evenly matched contest Arnold wound up on their own 47-yard line; with the last seconds ticking away versatile "Wes" Johnston faded back and heaved a long pass to the 30-yard line where Peter Cropcho gathered up the pigskin and raced the remaining distance for the game's only touchdown. Sukala drop-kicked the conversion to make the score Arnold 7, East Deer 0.

The rough going started after that, however, when a strong Springdale eleven dropped Arnold by defeating them, 34-6. Ray Predebon snagged a Johnston pass for the Orange and Blue's only tally.

A strong Mars squad invaded the Leslie Memorial stadium to edge out the Lions by two conversion points — 14-12. Louis Sukala scored in the first period; and in the final quarter Johnston crashed his way through from the Mars 9-yard line. It was then that Mars staged a touchdown drive which defeated the Lionmen.

On Saturday, October 27, the Arnold High Lions invaded Ford City only to bow to the Glassers, 16-6. The Lions failed to capitalize on scoring opportunities. The Lions were in the running until the final quarter, when the Glassers recorded their final touchdown. Going into the final period the Tannas crew trailed by only three points, 9-6.

In their finale of the season, the Arnold High School gridmen were handed an unexpected setback by Plum Township. Arnold's lone tally came in the last quarter when Sam Torchia scored on a center plunge. First downs favored Arnold, 10-9. Arnold had seven downs to Plum's one in the first half. Final score, Plum Township 18, Arnold 6.

A summary shows that Arnold High School won four and lost five, scoring at least once in every contest. Wesley Johnston and Anthony Marsico served as co-captains.

BASKETBALL

ARNOLD 26, SCOTT 33. — The Lions lost their opener of the 1945-46 season. Although the score at the end of the third quarter was tied at 23-23, the Scott passers rallied in the last quarter to defeat Arnold. Lamie and Sukala sparked the Lions' offensive, each with seven point totals.

ARNOLD 29, EAST DEER 19. — The Lions took an early lead, maintaining it throughout the whole fray. The game, played at the Ridge Avenue gymnasium, marked the first win of the season for Arnold High School.

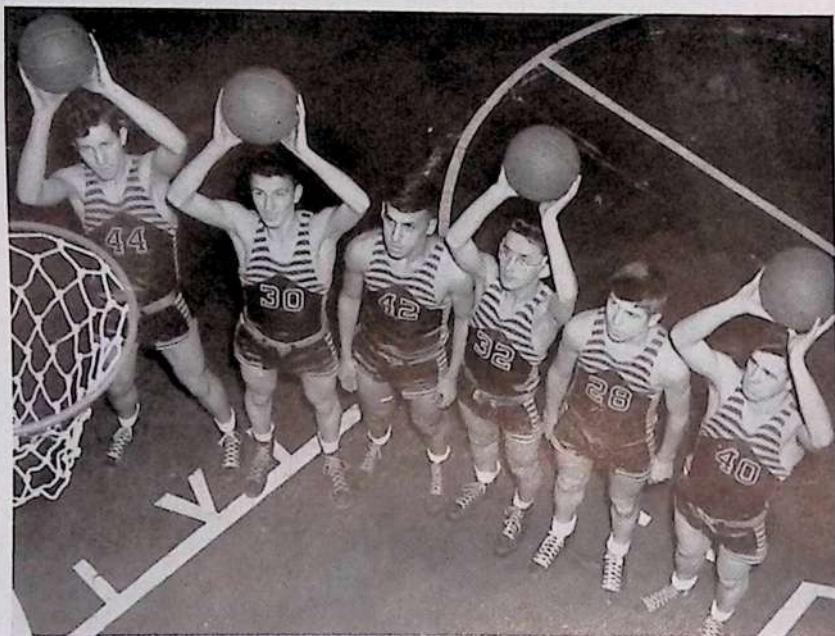

ARNOLD 23, TARENTUM 25. — The Red Cats edged out the Lions in the closing minutes of the game. Paced by Fritz Peck, Arnold was on the long end of an 18-13 tally at the end of the third quarter, only to go down in the last frame. Murphy starred for the Red Cats.

ARNOLD 41, EAST DEER 24. — Zuber and Toney, with eleven and nine points respectively, led the Lion offensive. In this game Coach McGuire used ten players, eight of whom figured in the scoring column.

ARNOLD 34, FREEPORT 22. — Arnold displayed its superiority; and not once were the McGuiremen in danger of losing the lead. Toney sparked the offensive with 14 points. Sukala came next with a quartet of field goals.

ARNOLD 35, SPRINGDALE 43. — Although all of the Lions participated in the scoring, Sukala sparked with 13 points. This game marked the third loss of the season for Arnold.

ARNOLD 51, LEECHBURG 28. — Leading their rivals all the way, the Lions romped off to a decisive 51-28 win over the Leechburg High cagers on the losers' floor. Again all of the Lions' players had a hand in the scoring, with Peck topping the list of scorers with a 13-point total.

BASKETBALL

ARNOLD 19, BUTLER 18. — The Arnold team opened their Section I card by a triumph over the Butler Tornadoes. Peck featured again with a convincing total of nine points.

ARNOLD 29, SPRINGDALE 25. — After a fast three quarters the score was tied at 15-all. In the fourth quarter the Arnoldites found the range to outscore the Rippermen for a substantial lead of 29-25.

ARNOLD 28, FORD CITY 36. — In their second league encounter the Lions were shaded by the defending champs of Section I. The game found the two teams matching each other for points until well into the last period. Here the Lionmen faltered and the Glassers gained a slight edge.

ARNOLD 25, HAR-BRACK 30. — In their next fray Arnold dropped a tough decision to the Big Green. Zuber, Sukala, and Fantozzi starred on the defense for the Lions.

ARNOLD 33, KEN HIGH 24. — The Arnold floormen hit the mesh again and again to trounce the Flying Dutchmen of Ken High to the tune of 33 to 24. Repeatedly the Lion crew swept through the red and black-clad Kenmen to drop in baskets. All of the Arnoldites had a hand in the scoring.

ARNOLD 34, TARENTUM 33. — Sam Toney, with 3 seconds to go and the game deadlocked 33-all, completed a foul and emerged the hero of the fray.

ARNOLD 39, KITTANNING 19. — With the second string playing most of the time, the Lion passers handed the Kitties a crushing defeat. Ford Simpson emerged the leading scorer for the Arnold squad.

ARNOLD 20, BUTLER 17. — The Lions went abroad on February 2 to defeat Butler in a Section I tilt. Reno Fantozzi led the Arnold cagers in field goals.

ARNOLD 47, FREEPORT 27. — With the Lions scoring at will, Arnold defeated the Yellow Jackets for the second time in the current basketball season.

ARNOLD 19, FORD CITY 33. — Arnold High School was again defeated by the powerful Glasser squad. Arnold kept up with the Section I champs for the first three quarters but was weakened considerably by the loss of Sukala and Jaraczski on personals. The play in the final quarter favored Ford City. Zuber had nine points for Arnold, and Chester Gurski led the scoring for the Glassers.

ARNOLD 26, HAR BRACK 23. — Leading virtually all the way in a hotly-contested battle, the McGuiremen whipped the Tigers on the latter's floor. Fantozzi, Lamie, Peck, and Zuber sparked for Arnold.

BASKETBALL

ARNOLD 48, KEN HIGH 38. — In a typical Arnold-Ken High clash the Kenmen were again trimmed by the Arnold five. The Kensters gave the Lions some stiff competition throughout the first three quarters but wilted in the last frame, where the Arnold quint pulled away. Lamie, Peck, and Sukala starred in the scoring for the Lions.

ARNOLD 26, KITTANNING 32. — In their final section game of the season, the Arnold quinted was checked by the Kitties. Fantozzi led the Lion cagers as he rang up three field goals and a trio of free throws for a total of nine points. Lamie came next in line with seven points.

Arnold played twenty-two games, winning fourteen and losing eight. In Section I play they were successful in winning second place. In the County Tournament, Arnold defeated Hurst 40 to 29, and lost in the semi-final round to Norwin 28 to 26. Louis Sukala was named on the first string of the Section I all-star team. Reno Fantozzi made the second string; and Louis Lamie and Fritz Peck were on honorable mention.

BASEBALL

Arnold High School's 1945 baseball team, coached by Mr. Arthur F. Fleeger, played good ball all season. It was a green team that took the field this season. Aside from three severe lacerations administered by West Deer, Ken High, and Har-Brack, the team showed improvement as the season progressed. Several games could have been victories, with a few breaks here and there.

The Lionmen dropped their first encounter to Har-Brack, 5-2. Next they traveled to West Deer, where they were trounced 23-0. They then lost to Freeport, 8-7, and to Ken High, 1-0. In a ten-inning fray they were defeated by Tarentum, 6-5. Arnold was also dropped by Har-Brack, 21-6; West Deer, 7-5; Freeport, 6-1; and Ken High, 9-0.

Five of the Lion regular players hit above .250. Milan Filcik, a hot corner guardian, led the team's batsmen with a .474 batting mark. Next on the list came John Kakuk, the Lion receiver, who hit a .364 mark. John Resetar virtually led Section X batters in clouting triples. Matthew Peconi, with eight hits in twenty-nine times at bat, made a .262 mark; and Wesley Johnston, with a .250 batting mark, came next in line.

CLASS PROPHECY

It's the spring of the year A.D. 1956, and our fancies have turned to the thoughts of travel. Our excursion, which will be under the direction of Milan Filcik, the noted chemical engineer, will originate from our old home town. We call the Peter Cropcho Travel Bureau to make arrangements for a trip to New York by plane. We are informed by the receptionist, a Miss Beverly Harris, of the Northeast Airlines (now under the management of the Messrs. Richard Kantorski and Albert Wicks), that space is available on a Gordon Francart-John Harrell built sky-cruiser piloted by David Tomkewitz and his co-pilot, John Valente.

Upon our arrival at the airport via the Oryst Balaban Taxicab Service, we are greeted by Fred Galie, the president of the Arlion airport, and his attractive secretary, Lucille Galie. We have been informed that our plane is on the runway; so our baggage is put on the transport by a red-cap, none other than George Shaheen.

Now we are soaring over the beautiful landscape of Pennsylvania. Sitting across from us is that alluring movie star, Elsie DeGregorio with her press agent, Enzo Sestini. Directly behind them we recognize Lt. Commander Albert Baxter and his aid, Ensign Richard Balog.

After an hour in the stratosphere, the stewardess, Maxine Donati, informs us that we are nearing La Guardia Field, and then helps us fasten our safety belts. After we have landed, we are greeted by the mayor of New York, William Colditz, Senator Joseph Ogurchock, and Police Chief James Moses. The Mayor promises to show us the high spots of the town: first we are sped to the City Hall, where we meet the district attorney, John Parshook, and his secretary, Rosemary Bishop.

Before we tour the city, we stop at Evelyn Kowk's restaurant for a light lunch. We are served by Mary Stano and Amelia Karrs. After a delicious meal we proceed further on our journey. From the windows of our car, the latest Charles Stadterman model, placed on the market by the Lester Artman-Ted Meixelsberger Auto Co., we notice a huge pickle factory which we are told is owned by the multi-millionaire Arthur Ricci.

As we proceed down Broadway we recognize familiar names in lights. Featured at the Orrie Hazelett-Charlotte Hazelett Theater we find Dan Antonnuci and his band, with his guest artists of the day, James Smith and Robert Butler and their "Golden Trumpets." Directly across the street we find Mary Ann Ewing's Beauty Salon. Inside we find the manicurists to be Dolores Grayson and Dolores Fiscus. Skilled at the latest hair-styles created by Anthony Marsico are Irene Glubish, Janice Gray, and Alice Smith. The beauty shop is patronized by such noted figures as Roxie Ungard, the well-known newspaperwoman; Dorothy Ray, the sole heir to the Ray millions; and Carolyn Becker, who wrote the latest best-seller, "How to Win a Man."

Moving down a few doors to the Doris Johnson Building, we notice familiar names on the office directory. Occupying Room 101 are Mabel Pratt and Dorothy Zimmerman, the well-known criminal lawyers. On the seventh floor we find the offices of Dr. Eugene Prokopik, the successful dentist. In Room 310 is Dr. Roy Young, the famous brain specialist, and his nurse, Katharine Reichert.

On the thirty-ninth floor is radio station WKPZ; so to make our tour complete we visit the studio. We are taken up in an elevator operated by

CLASS PROPHECY

Mildred Zemleduch. After being received at the studio by Joan Young, we are introduced to Joseph Radzwill, who is to act as our guide. Joe first takes us to the control room, where we find radio's top-notch engineer, Richard Wood, with his charming assistant, Agnes Tierney. Next we are taken to Studio Y, where the cast of the new program "Stars of Arnold" is rehearsing for its next program. Here we find that new musical success, Dom Mele and his "Three Little Dominoes" — Salvatore Argento, Robert Stein, and James Nardelli.

Just finishing their program in Studio Z we find the new Frank Swoonatra, Rudolph Adamiak and Metropolitan opera stars Elaine Frederick, Mary Sacriponte, and Ruth Landis, whose voices took the country by storm. Guests of honor on today's program are Julia Lacinski and Mario Caicco, the noted ballet dancers, and Helen Malecki and Marian Longo, owners of the Norma Andree Chewing Gum Company.

Our next stop is to see the Yankee Stadium, which is now owned by Nick Pogosleski, that versatile baseball player. Playing today are the Pittsburgh Pirates, managed by Ernest Fiorina, and the New York Yankees, who are run by that well-known manager, Joseph Sokol. As we glance over the fans, our eyes fall upon a few more members of the class of '46" — First we see Betty Jane Crider, the world-famous dietitian, dressed beautifully in a business suit and wearing an exquisite hat creation designed by the famed milliner, Joanne Esser. With Miss Crider is Gloria Guzzo, the poet, and her capable secretary, Augusta Murin. And with Kahle Johnson, the noted explorer, is Genevieve Gates, that beautiful Hollywood model.

On our way to a nightspot, we pass Theresa Spezzano's Super Market, which is patronized by many of the celebrities of the town — Dolores Gaudy and Nancy Chilia, social speakers; and Mary Lou Barcus, Vivian Ross, Bernadine Moxon, Mafalda Salvatore, and Doreen Theibert, five of the best dressed women in town.

Now we find ourselves at the Margaret Knosky Night Club. Waitress Palmina Ulizio shows us to our table, and our orders are placed in the hands of Connie Nicastro. While waiting to be served, we see John Nigon, the noted deep-sea diver entering the club. At a table at the far end we find Joan Wetter, Ruth Wescoat, Nancy Tilmans, Evelyn Porchia and Mary Lou Powell, a group of Powers models. Dining at another table are Marie Kirkwood, private secretary of the President of the United States; Lillian Mazza and Mary Ann Muffley, dancing stars of the stage; and Hilde Jacob, authority in engineering.

Before leaving this beautiful town of New York City, we visit the Lola Baldwin College. At the college (which is strictly a girls' school) we recognize these personalities — George Fisher, all-American end, president of the college. Members of the faculty include Mary Louise Gillis, master of mathematics, and her assistant, Clara Cernicky; Margaret Housholder and Marie Puglisi, dramatic instructors; Rena Beroni, Helen DeMayo, and Patricia France, English Supervisors; Sylvia Baglieri, Marion Flaherty, and Dorothy Seman, shorthand instructors.

After thanking the mayor for an enjoyable stay, we depart for the airport. Upon our arrival at the airport, mechanics Robert Artuso and Joseph Plasynski inform us that our plane is ready for the return trip. Now we are on our last leg of the journey and as we head back over the beautiful landscape of Pennsylvania, we say to ourselves, "Yes, that's our class of 1946."

CLASS WILL

We, the senior class of one thousand nine hundred forty-six do bequeath the following thoughts to our underclassmen:

- I, Mildred Zemleduch, bequeath to all underclassmen my ability to study government on the way to school every morning.
- I, Salvatore Argento, bequeath my bus to anyone who likes to drive a taxi.
- I, Mary Lou Barcus, bequeath my liking for short skirts to no one. They're going out of style anyway.
- I, Albert Wicks, bequeath my talkativeness to Mike Nicastro — provided he uses it after 3:30 P. M.
- I, Patricia France, bequeath my ability to get male escorts to basketball games to Florence Conto.
- I, Joseph Ogurchock, bequeath to Eugene Lobur my so-called business ability.
- I, Evelyn Porchia, bequeath my love of fun and laughter to no one — I need it myself.
- I, Orrie Hazelett, bequeath my quiet and silent manner to Frank Gigler — he can use it.
- I, Robert Stein, bequeath my good looks to Thomas Lisiewski.
- I, Hilde Jacob, bequeath my brains (especially in chemistry) to Buddy Hanna, who says he needs them.
- I, Mary Ann Ewing, bequeath my liking for Ken Hi boys to Lorraine Flinn.
- I, Dolores Fiscus, bequeath three years of hard work to Leona Champainy — who' am I kidding?
- I, Dom Mele, bequeath my aquiline nose to anyone having a poor sense of smell.
- I, Agnes Tierney, bequeath my beautiful long tresses to someone with a feathercut.
- I, Constance Nicastro, bequeath my zest for doing something (just anything) in journalism class to next year's class.
- I, John Valente, bequeath to Charles Jaraczynski my giantlike stature.
- I, Ruth Wescoat, bequeath my ability to argue to anyone taking government with Mr. Klein.
- I, Marion Flaherty, bequeath my extreme deafness to classroom discussion to all bored students.
- I, Norma Andree, bequeath all my slightly-used chewing gum to Louise Sartori.
- I, Rudolph Adamiak, bequeath my blond, wavy curls to anyone having dish-water blond hair.
- I, Lola Baldwin, bequeath my ability to attend football games with sailors to no one — I like them.
- I, Charles Stadterman, bequeath all of my jallopies to any half-baked mechanic.
- I, Maxine Donati, bequeath my fondness for sweets to Patricia Pfeiffer.
- I, Joanne Esser, bequeath my man-getting qualities to all bashful sophomores.
- I, James Moses, bequeath my sharp wit to no one. It is my chief characteristic.
- I, Helen Malecki, bequeath my ability to get excused early to all tuition students — they're always worrying about getting a bus.
- I, Doris Johnson, bequeath my ability to go home without any books to Lillian Kennedy — she's always got a load.
- I, Sylvia Baglieri, bequeath my seat in government class to any future students who want it. (It's next to Mr. Klein.)
- I, Joseph Plasynski, bequeath my ability to spell my name four different ways to anyone with such a name.
- I, Marie Kirkwood, bequeath my ability to drown myself (in mimeograph ink) to future journalism students.
- I, Kahle Johnson, bequeath my fondness for big-game hunting to no one. It's too much a part of me.
- I, Genevieve Gates, bequeath my cat eyes (they're really green!) to anyone who likes to see in the dark.
- I, Mary Stano, bequeath my beautiful collection of skirts and sweaters to my sister Helen.
- I, David Tomkewitz, bequeath my ability to imitate to anyone who wants it. (My, such a crowd!)
- I, Clara Cernicky, bequeath my blonde locks (and they're really blonde! to any unfortunate brunette.

I, Elsie DeGregorio, bequeath my ability to get along with men to no one. I need it myself.

I, Fred Galie, bequeath my ability to insult girls to George Zimmerman — he's really too polite for words.

I, Roxie Ungard, bequeath my ability to say the wrong thing to Dolores Zuber.

I, Mabel Pratt, bequeath my superb typing skill to Clara Colaiani. She really doesn't need it.

I, Janice Gray, bequeath my long and well-manicured nails to anyone with the nail-biting habit.

I, John Harrell, bequeath my skirt-chasing ability to bashful sophomores.

I, Theresa Spezzano, bequeath my valuable and abundant collection of perfumes to all lovers of beautiful scents.

I, John Parshook, bequeath my football playing ability to Tony Marsico.

I, Joan Wetter, bequeath my beguiling dimple to Mildred Peters.

I, Mary Louise Gillis, bequeath my chemistry books to future students — oh, brother, do I pity you.

I, Eugene Prokopik, bequeath my popularity with the girls to some unfortunate juniors — no names mentioned.

I, Julia Lacinski, bequeath my ability to dance to some of those junior and senior boys who don't dance.

I, Nick Pogoleski, bequeath my baseball ability to next year's team.

I, Dorothy Zimmerman, bequeath my love of studying to Raymond Predebon. (Believe me, you'll need it!)

I, Nancy Chilia, bequeath my cute and spontaneous giggle to anyone without a sense of humor.

I, Rosemary Bishop, bequeath my ability to answer questions on Bradley Junction to my sister Joanne.

I, Ted Meixelsberger, bequeath my way with women to Richard Bloom (He's so-o-o bashful.)

I, Betty Jane Crider, bequeath my ability to fascinate handsome young football players to no one. (I'm not that dumb!)

I, Dorothy Seman, bequeath my steady position as "sitter" to Ann Bryan.

I, Marie Puglisi, bequeath my record collection to Lyda Adams.

I, Mafalda Salvatore, bequeath my ability to go steady for years to Mary Alice Hunger.

I, Anthony Marsico, bequeath my acting ability to all stage aspirants.

I, Katharine Reichert, bequeath my editorial ability to next year's Broadcaster editors.

I, Bernadine Moxon, bequeath my quiet and serious attitude to those extremely funny people.

I, Milan Filcik, bequeath my ability in baseball to my handsome brother Julius.

I, Helen DeMayo, bequeath my quiet manner to all noisy people.

I, Joan Young, bequeath my large and extensive book collection to someone who enjoys reading.

I, Alice Mae Smith, bequeath my quiet efficiency to all easily frustrated people.

I, Peter Cropcho, bequeath my football ability to John Biss. He'll be an even better player now.

I, Carolyn Becker, bequeath my ability to attract the opposite sex to no one. (It really comes in very handy.)

I, Mary Sacriponte, bequeath my ability to take shorthand dictation to second-year shorthand students. I hope it helps you.

I, George Fisher, bequeath my nonchalant and devil-may-care attitude to all conscientious students.

I, Oryst Balaban, bequeath my ability to beat the 8:30 bell to all late risers.

I, Gloria Guzzo, bequeath my ability to write poetry to all future poets laureate.

I, William Colditz, bequeath my way with women to some more of those bashful sophomores.

I, Beverly Harris, bequeath my ability to acquire boy friends while seeing horror pictures to any unattached girls.

I, Lucille Galie, bequeath my pleasant smile to no one. It's one of my greatest assets.

I, Richard Kantorski, bequeath my ability to be driving Wicks' car always to no one — I enjoy it.

I, Mario Caicco, bequeath to all junior boys my ability to jitterbug.

I, Rena Beroni, bequeath my ability to discuss current events to Phyllis Sarne.

I, Albert Baxter, bequeath my ability to catch big fish and tell tall stories to Mr. Berkey.

I, Amelia Karrs, bequeath my ability to get along with people to no one. (What would I do?)

I, Dolores Grayson, bequeath my 22-inch waistline to anyone who wants it — line forms to the right.

I, Richard Balog, bequeath my driving ability to all beginners. (Who am I kidding?)

I, Robert Artuso, bequeath my grease-monkey ability to future shop students.

I, Doreen Theibert, bequeath my ability to "swindle" the car from my father to all those who learn to drive.

I, Mary Lou Powell, bequeath my unobtrusive friendliness to all talkative people.

I, John Nigon, bequeath my ability to attract women to Fritz Peck. He does all right on his own right.

I, Elaine Frederick, bequeath my ability in exchanging notes between buildings to Lillian Sharick.

I, Margaret Housholder, bequeath my loud and carrying voice to Ruth Graff — the meek-voiced creature.

I, Lillian Mazza, bequeath my ability to get myself a diamond ring to all ambitious junior girls.

I, Lester Artman, bequeath my ability as a hunter to all sports-loving boys.

I, Ernest Fiorina, bequeath my ability as a pitcher to next year's baseball squad.

I, Marian Longo, bequeath my government workbook to any future senior.

I, Mary Ann Muffley, bequeath my reddish locks to Dorothy Kordzi—nothing like contrast.

I, Palmina Ulizio, bequeath my ability to gather news items to all interested people.

I, James Smith, bequeath my genius for thinking up corny remarks to anyone having trouble thinking up things to say.

I, Augusta Murin, bequeath my curious nature to disinterested people — especially in government class.

I, Dan Antonucci, bequeath my musical ability to future band members.

I, Margaret Knosky, bequeath my ability to jitterbug to my brother John — he really doesn't need it.

I, Charlotte Hazelett, bequeath my ability to get long-distance phone calls to Margaret Ogurchock.

I, Ruth Landis, bequeath my quiet friendliness to some noisy people I won't name here.

I, Richard Wood, bequeath my red hair to Louis Sukala. (Gosh, I pity him!)

I, Nancy Tilmans, bequeath all my school books to Lois Parker.

I, Robert Butler, bequeath my ability to blush to no one. (I wouldn't "saddle" anyone with that!)

I, Dolores Gaudy, bequeath my petite and well-molded figure to Ann Valigursky — she doesn't need it.

I, Roy Young, bequeath my ability "to pester the life out of people" to Ray Ricci.

I, Enzo Sestini, bequeath my good looks to Wesley Johnston. (He certainly will knock them cold now.)

I, Vivian Ross, bequeath my ability to be absent to haters of school.

I, Arthur Ricci, bequeath my pug nose to Loreto Mele. (Now I am a liar!)

I, Gordon Francart, bequeath everything I have to anyone who wants it.

I, George Shaheen, bequeath my wonderful smile to Richard Flaherty.

I, Joseph Radzwill, bequeath my ability always to have a carful of passengers to all taxi drivers.

I, Dorothy Ray, bequeath my ability to fall asleep in class to anyone keeping late hours.

I, James Nardelli, bequeath my size 12 feet to anyone needing landing barges.

I, Irene Glubish, bequeath my happy and perpetual smile to students lagging in homework. (It actually helps, sometimes.)

I, Evelyn Kowk, bequeath my overworked brains to anyone who wants them. Line forms to the left.

I, Joseph Sokol, bequeath my outstanding ability at basketball to Louis Lamie. Now he'll be even better.

In this our final testament, we the senior class of one thousand nine hundred forty-six, have willed our most cherished possessions which we have held throughout our school years to those who may need them in years to come.
