The Pattern of Life is Found

Here it is; hold it—it's yours! The hundreds of hours of intense labor are yours. The hopes, the disappointments of a few students like you now exist visually in the pages of the annual you hold before you. Purpose and interest produced this book, and only the realization of those two forces will make it a success. The sincerity of the editors and their helpers is easily recognizable despite the frivolity and informality which characterized the formative days of the book.

Board of Education

A. Romito, Solicitor

Every institution, in order to survive and accomplish its purpose, must have a strong, dependable foundation. Such is true of education.

Our own school board serves as a foundation of our school system. Elected by fellow citizens these seven men strive to complete many tasks placed in their capable hands. Their wise judgments, arrived at only after considerable thought, have molded the philosophy of the Arnold Public Schools.

We, the graduating class of 1956, congratulate you at the climax of another successful year.

H. D. BERKEY
Indiana State Teachers College
University of Pittsburgh

Superintendent

May your generation awaken the world to the fact that construction and not destruction is its better destiny; that victories over disease, fear, ignorance and intolerance won by the beneficial tools of peace are more to be desired than victories won by the cataclysmic tools of war.

Live well each day your life of service and accomplishment for which you have already had an encouraging start. By continuous learning, searching and thinking straight may you find each tomorrow better than today.

Each of the past twelve years has been to you a change, a step, a grade. Clad in an academic robe, the symbol of attainment, you now stand at the top of those steps. From this new perspective you have willingly even rejoicingly bid farewell to those years of petty struggle. Only faintly do you understand the far greater struggle ahead. Toward this struggle you have been climbing, for it you have been preparing, and by it at this hour you are irresistibly drawn.

Step forth! The new strife awaits you. Enter it with wisdom to recognize its truth, with courage to combat its error, and with faith to perceive its ultimate goal.

Assistant Principal

A great industrialist tells us that there are two kinds of courage. One is a spontaneous explosion of aroused instincts to meet some sudden emergency; the other is steadfast and enduring against repeated failures and rebuffs. All of you will need a great amount of the latter as you plunge into the world of tomorrow. Each time you make a decision for your future, you are girding yourself with that kind of courage.

The Juniors Class of 1957

OFFICERS

Treasurer	D. Terlinski
Advisors	Mr. Scherer Mrs. Sakaluk

"A whole parade of wonderful experiences" could well be the subtitle to the junior year of the class of fifty-seven. Whatever seemed to meet their touch turned out to be a happy, feverish, and spirited success.

"Pigskin days" of this year were crowned with the dizzy whirl of manning refreshment stands and selling candy and hot dogs to hungry football crowds.

Broadway wasn't to be denied either. Stand-up applause greeted the Juniors' production of the perennial "school marm," "A Dance with Our Miss Brooks."

Enchanting evenings ... we've had them, too. New York ... Broadway ... night life all made wonderful memoirs for the Junior dance "Steppin' Out to the Stork Club."

But it was the prom that made the year complete. In a glittering exotic setting of Arabian Nights, we danced the junior year to its close and put joys, hope, and laughter away for another year.

First Row: K. Lopushinsky, C. Szoch, A. Ansani, J. Nelson. Second Row: Miss A. Strittmatter, Mr. E. Holtz.

We welcomed the sophomores to the senior high this fall, and they have proven themselves to be outstanding in all ways.

Early in the first semester they elected officers who are: Al Ansani, president; Ted Szoch, vice president; Jackie Nelson, Secretary; and Katherine Lopushinsky, treasurer.

Along with their advisors, Mr. Holtz and Miss Strittmatter, they planned various activities, all of which proved worthwhile. A Valentine candy sale, a new idea, topped the list and appealed to all. Another original idea, the sale of Easter flowers, which was received wholeheartedly, came next on this list. Their annual dance, held in the early spring, finished off a successful year.

These sophomores can look forward to two fun-filled years. They possess the talent, originality and get-up-and-go necessary for great achievements.

We can expect remarkable accomplishments from these sophomores and know that they will leave a host of attainments behind them when they leave Arnold High.

Preparing for their debut into the senior high school this fall, the freshmen have already proved themselves to be energetic and resourceful.

In the fall of the year they elected as their officers: Jim Mazza, president; Randy Varesco, vice president; Virginia Tripodi, secretary; and Henrietta Massimini, treasurer. They, along with their advisors, Mrs. Sipes, Mr. Peretti and Mrs. Clark, carried off the annual freshmen magazine sale. Immediately following, this untiring group went on to a successful sale of felt letters and lion-head insignias.

To complete their commendable record, they held a dance in the spring which was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

From all indications, we believe that these freshmen will be a most outstanding senior class. They have proved that they have that spark of ingenuity, initiative and pep that makes a class worthy of recognition.

Aside from their own activities, they participate in every school project. They are indispensable in the extra-curricular programs.

We can expect great things from this group within the next three years. The class of '59 is sure to leave a trail of success behind them.

The Grades

Small steps climb the ladder of success easily

Learning the rights of citizenship and duties of citizenship.

On September 5, 1955, the doors of Arnold Junior High School swung open to our seventh and eighth graders who were clamoring to begin their junior high school education. Somewhat frightened by the bells, and decidedly confused by the lengthy assignments, they wondered how long they could survive such an ordeal. However, their difficulties began to smooth out after a few weeks.

This group was soon to be seen rooting wildly at all football and basketball games and strongly supporting their class dances and various other programs. High on their list of achievements were their enjoyable and educational assembly programs presented by each home room during the year. Also, much praise was bestowed in recognition of this group's highly successful hobby and craft show. As a climax to the year's activities, their artistic ability was displayed to the public when, during the holiday season, they painted downtown store windows.

Their immense achievements and their willing efforts are certain to present an excellent senior class in years to come.

National Honor Society

Ready to take the lead

Learning with a smile.

To be selected as a member of the National Honor Society is the attainment of a goal set by all ambitious juniors and seniors. Those who have achieved this position are aware of the honor that has been bestowed upon them. These few who have gained this honor were chosen on the basis of these four requirements: scholarship, service, leadership and character. The members must rank scholastically in the first third of the group, but not more than fifteen per cent of the senior class may be selected to membership in the chapter.

The aim of this society has been to promote enthusiasm among the students for the development of future members of the society.

Student Council

Under the capable leadership of their president, Alfred McMillan and the faculty advisor, Mr. L. F. McGuire, the student governing body of Arnold was able to accomplish many projects this year.

Among some of these projects included the annual sock dance—"Levi Leap," the purchasing of a new hi-fidelity microphone, the annual Christmas dance, and highlighting the year's activities—the final purchasing of the badly needed trophy case.

In the activities of the Student Council are to be seen the excellent results of student cooperation and healthy pupil-teacher relationships.

Broadcaster

The Broadcaster, voicing the scholastic and social activities of Arnold High School, is presented to the student body by a staff which includes sophomores, juniors, and seniors of the journalism class.

These enthusiastic journalists work together striving to provide the students with information about themselves and their school. Responsibility, exactness, and timeliness play an important part in their everyday activities.

Under the advisorship of Miss Virginia A. Bushnell, seven issues of the Broadcaster are printed yearly including a special senior issue for the graduating class.

Tri-Hi-Y

sparkling activities*

Tri-Hi-Y is an organization which tends to build strong Christian character in the home, school, and community.

Various duties of charity were done by the club during the year. They adopted an orphan girl as a sister and honorary member of the club. Attractive baskets of food were packed for unfortunate families for their Thanksgiving dinner. Ready and able were these girls to undertake the task of baby-sitting for children of members of the P.T.A. during their meetings.

A bowling league along with numerous programs presented by the club proved to be enjoyable to all. The annual prom-style dance headed their list of activities.

BOY'S OCTET
GIRL'S ENSEMBLE

An abundance of good music, radiant enthusiasm and industrious workers spelled success for the senior high choir again this past school year. The choral group, under the able direction of Miss Dorothy Ferrante, brought more acclaim to Arnold, a school long noted for its fine musical organizations.

In one of the year's biggest events, the choir performed excellently with Springdale, Tarentum, New Kensington, and Har Brack in the Allegheny Valley Choral Festival, which was held at Arnold early in December. The choir's second annual operetta, a musical comedy entitled "In Old Vienna," successfully captured and reflected the light-heartedness of the group amid the ever-enchancing Viennese setting.

The choir members also expressed their enthusiasm and cooperative spirit in other spheres as they efficiently planned and carried out their annual bake sale and dance. Profits from these events were used to purchase sweaters for senior choir members.

This, then, is the story of the choir—corridors of learning filled with joyful sound that truly expressed the spirit of Arnold High.

Senior High Band

With a fanfare of thirty majorettes the Arnold High School Band was led through its maneuvers on the football field last fall.

This versatile group displayed originality, pep and enthusiasm in its unique and clever routines. Of special note was their precision marching and dancing to the "Jackie Gleason Show," "Twelfth Street Rag," "Rock A-round the Clock," and many others. A concert given in the spring also proved to be a great success.

This fast stepping outfit performed not only at football and basketball games, but also at the Pittsburgh Steeler and Washington Redskin football game and in many local parades.

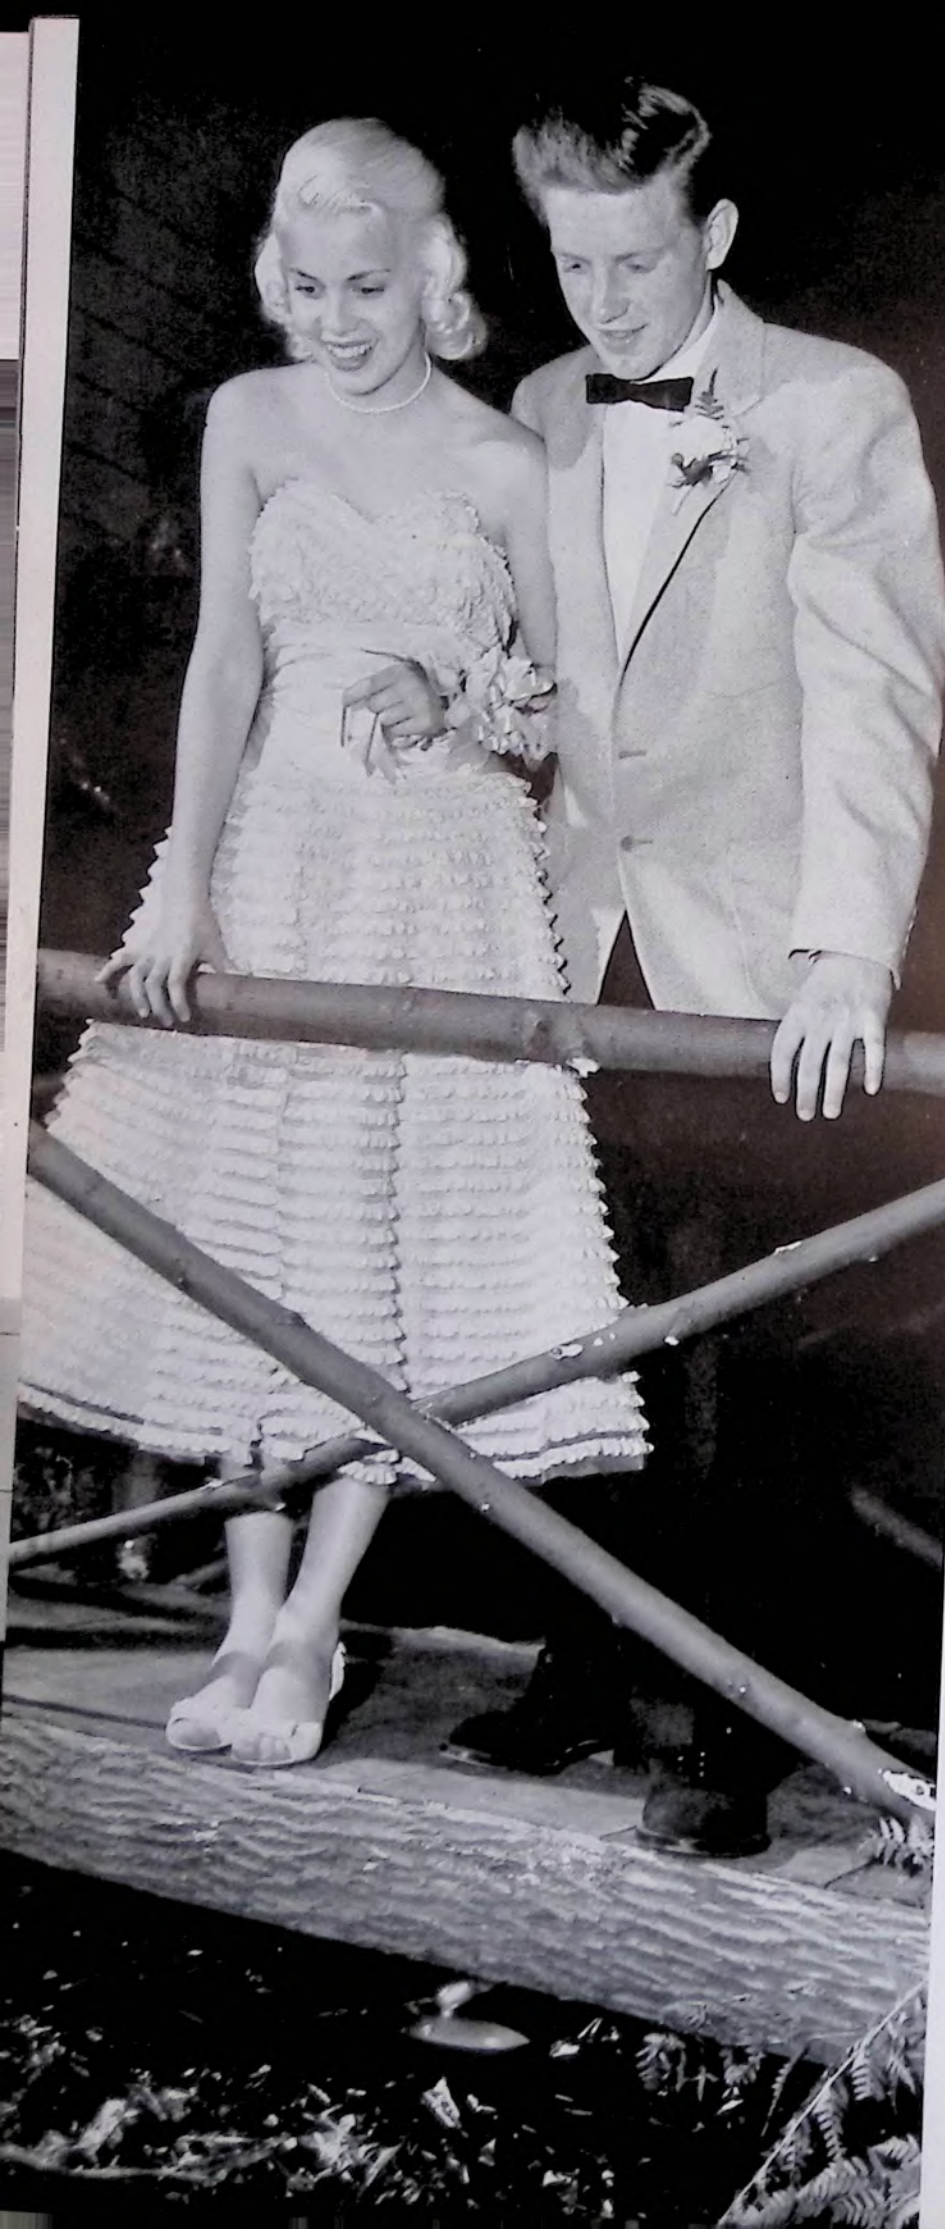

Directed by Mr. Albert Moses, the band and majorettes deserve much praise in the fine work they have done.

The Prom

The Climax of

Once again the spacious gym of the Roy A. Hunt Building was turned into a ballroom for the Junior-Senior Prom on May 13, 1955.

The theme "Younger Than Springtime" was carried out by various settings depicting the out-of-doors.

One entered the gym by crossing over a rustic bridge under which flowed an artificial mountain stream.

The orchestra of Lee Kelton was seated against a mural of mountains and rustic scenery. A surrey with the fringe-on-top was one of the highlights of the decorations. To the left of the gym were the beautifully decorated tables. A stone wall covered with vines and roses overlooked the skyline of Anytown, U. S. A.

A garden of birdbaths, ferns, and flowers was artistically arranged in a circle at the center of the floor.

Silver stars suspended from mobiles dotted the ceiling giving the effect of a starry night.

A buffet lunch was served to everyone present and each person received a favor—the girls received compacts and the boys received tie clasps.

Miss Cipolla, Mr. Hajel, and everyone who helped with the Prom were successful in making everyone feel "Younger Than Springtime."

THE RECORD

Tarentum	7	0
Oakmont	13	0
Springdale	0	7
Millvale	24	7
Plum	12	14

The leadership of Coach Alex Tannas and his assistants, Mario Peretti and Frank Martin, produced the scrappy, green gridiron unit which took the field for Arnold in 1955. Working diligently at their camp in the Laurel Mountains for one week, the boys became a fit, determined squad, one which was ready for all comers.

This aggressiveness earned for the Tannasmen highly-prized victories over Tarentum, Oakmont and Millvale, while West Deer, Freeport, Springdale, Plum and Hampton had to go all out to stop the Lions.

Stinging from the losses of the hard-fought West Deer and Freeport games, the Lions sprung back to conquer arch-rival Tarentum and on the following week Arnold rolled over Oakmont. After losing to Springdale by one touchdown, they went on to smother Millvale in a wild scoring spree. On the following Friday, the Lions met an undefeated Plum team and, only after a hard fought battle, lost by two points. The Lions brought down the curtain with a thrilling see-saw battle with Hampton in which Arnold lost only after they had given their best.

You cannot measure success in football by wins or losses. The yardstick is sportsmanship, teamwork and spirit. This goal has been accomplished to the utmost here at Arnold.

Junior Varsity

The success of the future varsity is dependent upon the development of a strong junior varsity squad. Each day this eager group could be seen practicing the fundamentals of the game. Occasional scrimmages with the varsity enabled them to gain valuable experience. Coach Peretti formed a fine team from this inexperienced material.

Junior High

Our junior high school football team is the foundation of the football program. Under the coaching of Mr. Mario Peretti, the boys practiced faithfully their rigid routine of fundamentals. Coach Peretti has done an excellent job in developing Arnold's future gridiron material. Hats off to these aggressive, rugged and talented gridmen. Keep your eye on them.

Basketball

Quick thinking and action needed

The 1955-56 basketball season at Arnold, which marked the 19th year of coaching for Mr. Lawrence McGuire, the dean of valley basketball coaches, brought many thrills to the faithful Lion fans.

The hoopsters completed a successful exhibition season which was highlighted by an impressive win over Plum Township that carved for them the Holiday Tournament championship.

The usual stiff competition prevailed in Section I with Ken Hi proving the strongest. Arnold, with its spirit and aggressiveness, was one of the main factors contributing to this competition. They started the ball rolling by trouncing Vandergrift. They were then defeated by their arch-rival, Ken Hi, who gave the Lions a stiff battle. Arnold came back to beat a highly favored Ford City team, but then lost to Butler. In the second half of the league season, Arnold did not fare too well. The Lions were once again defeated by Ken Hi and ended their last week of games with two heartbreaking losses to Ford City and Butler. Both these games were lost by two points.

Although five seniors will be graduating this year, there will be three regulars and some strong Junior Varsity material returning next year.

The familiar shout, "Play ball" echoed again in 1955 at Herr Stadium, the home field of the Arnold baseball team. The Lions under the skillful coaching of Mr. Oliver Phillips started spring training in early April. The boys practiced long and hard at their Valley Camp practice field to be ready for their first game.

In the opening game, the Lions lost a thriller to Ken High by one run. The first indication of Arnold's scoring threat came in the East Deer game, with the victorious Lions crossing the plate six times. After this game the Lions received their only shut-out of the season from Har Brack, but this loss did not hamper their aggressiveness and the Lions went on to whip highly-favored Ken High. Following the heartbreaking loss to Tarentum the Lions began to click, winning their next three games. The peak of the Arnold scoring punch came in the Freeport game in which Arnold crossed the plate 15 times. The season ended with the Lions holding a record of 5 wins and 5 losses. It is surprising to note that the Lions chalked up 53 runs during the season while the opposition scored 34 times. Coach Phillips is optimistic about the coming season since all but three seniors are returning to his squad.

Tennis

Displays individual ability

The Arnold racquet squad under the able tutelage of Mr. George McLaughlin just about broke even in the won and lost column.

With less than two weeks of practice and hampered by the constant spring showers, the team met Wilkinsburg on its home court. After a nip and tuck game the Lions emerged victorious by a score of 3 to 2. The Lions were again successful against a strong Kiski Prep team. After bowing to Wilkinsburg on a return match and also to Central Catholic the Lions won two games from their neighborhood rivals, New Kensington. The Lions couldn't quite cope with Latrobe and Tarentum and finished the season with four wins and five losses.

The 1955 and 1956 team will have all its members back and will again be headed by its number one ace, Tom Kuhn. Their experience should carry them far in future encounters.

Golf

Mastery of the ball

Under the tutelage of Mr. Hajel, the newly-formed golf team got a late start in the spring. At the Hill Crest Country Club, the opening session found many hopeful candidates aspiring to permanent berths on the squad. Those selected to represent the team were Victor Choltco, Paul Jacobs, John Glovier, Robert Walasek, Richard Oswald, C. Hickman, Eugene Posati, Ronald Gaito and Gilbert Zilner.

Although the team's record was not impressive they acquired certain basic skills fundamental to this game which they will find helpful in future years.

Returning to the lineup this year will be the Lions number one, two, and three players: Vic Choltco, Paul Jacobs, John Glovier.

CODE OF ETHICS

- To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.
- To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.
- To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.
- Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow man, to resolve such doubt against myself.
- To hold friendship as an end and not a means—To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.
- Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state, and my community, and to give to them my unswerving loyalty in work, act, and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor, and means.
- To aid my fellow man by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.
- To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise, to build up and not destroy.

A Friend

you will be my bridesmaid. Okay,
Boy that's really talking better let me be in your wedding. Okay.

I'll always remember the time when I almost fell at the N.A.L.

with you. Boy
what a time
we had. Well, I'll close your best friend, always,

Renny

Lenna,

To one of the best up Arnold. Will always remember the time we went skating. Boy what a night, especially afterwards. You sure did look sweet at the Senior Banquet. I'll always have fond memories of our Health Class and our taking note.

Dear Lenna,

Lots of Luck to you and everything you do in your years to come. I will miss the good times we had together esp. the times walking up the hill together. Lenna, I hope you will find the right boy for yourself. Lenna when I come down the hospital I will tell them that I want you for my nurse. I hope that you will get along in your nursing years. You will make a very nice nurse. Don't forget to come up to see me when me & Whitey get married. I better see you at the reception. Well that's all I have to say for now so I will close. Lots of Luck & Success in everything you attempt to do. Stay as cute as you are.

Mrs. Bratton Williams Patsy
