This yearbook, as well as any yearbook, is meant to be a pictorial record of the school year. But a yearbook itself is more complex than that. It is the emotions and activities of the people of a school, set down in a plan of presentation devised by the yearbook staff. Because the staff, a minority of the student body, sets the pattern for this book, some people may have been overlooked. This, of course, is not intentional. The yearbook staff asks that these people consider that we have attempted to treat everyone as individuals as much as possible. We have weighed the possibilities of the contents of each page carefully, and have, we believe, made decisions that will please the majority of people. We hope you enjoy your 1964 Campus.

Judith Hetoich

PEOPLE

Kiski is essentially people. The Campus is essentially about these people: the ones who carry their armloads of books from slim lockers to wire-mesh baskets and back again, the ones with chalk-dust on their hands and a Corridor Pass in their desk drawer, and the seldom seen, who each evening cart away the overflowing waste-baskets filled with the fruits of practice and perplexity.

This book is about all of these people. Like memory notches in an electronic computer, the words and pictures which follow recapture the year gone by. A close-up of a quarterback breaking loose becomes the feel of a muddy uniform and a welcome dipperful of cold water. A lowered flag becomes a November Friday afternoon spent in silent disbelief. And a line of open-doored buses is a spring afternoon with all your homework done.

This is Kiski. This is you.

PEOPLE ARE MANY THINGS

Students at Kiski have many interests, manifest many talents. They are archers, marchers, centers and singers. They tumble, ride horses, play basketball and instruments for their own and their audience's pleasure. They are club officers, student representatives, team managers, and cheer leaders. They are the future nurses, business leaders, teachers, homemakers, and citizens. The people of Kiski are many and varied, and each is interesting in his own way.

*PEOPLE . . .
PRACTICING
PERFECTING*

The Senior Play, The Mouse That Roared, was the combined effort of people at Kiski.

The play, presented on March 5 and 6, is a humorous comment on international relations. Because it is aware of the rehabilitation the United States gives vanquished nations, the microscopic country of Grand Fenwick wages war on the United States in hopes of getting aid when they are defeated. Their plans are ruined, however, when they capture the "Q" bomb and inadvertently find themselves masters of the world.

Co-operation of the Senior Class was of the highest order as they pooled their talents and resources to create a fine production. In addition to the cast, who spent hours at rehearsal, seniors backstage designed sets, painted scenery, made costumes, and washed enough burlap to stretch from Kiski to Grand Fenwick.

Under the direction of Mrs. Coleman and Mr. Pagliarulo, they changed young ladies into queens, pupils into prime ministers, and armfuls of burlap into the forests of Grand Fenwick.

The class play illustrates many traits of the people of Kiski: creativity, ingenuity, and willingness to work.

TAKING FIVE

Did you ever see a group of teenagers who didn't take time out to relax? In the morning or during the lunch periods, students read the non-assigned, talk, lean against the lockers, talk, simply "mess around," or talk some more.

Browsing through the Kiskizette, making pom-poms for the pep club, or learning a new cheer for Friday's pep rally — all serve as welcome breaks from the long school day.

Mrs. Alta Smith, Mrs. Thelma McComb, Members of cafeteria staff

Mr. James R. Daniels, Assistant Principal

Mrs. Lila Cevario, Secretary

Helping hands are a literal answer to the endless plea for an extra pair of hands when you are carrying a chemistry, English, and French book, a gym towel, your World Cultures' project, and an umbrella while trying to open one of Kiski's 80-odd outside doors.

Helping hands may place a thermometer in your mouth or a band-aid on your finger. They may deliver a forgotten lunch or write out a late slip for the slow-footed.

The ice cream bar from the cafeteria, the basketball ticket from the student store, the cheeseburger with the pickle chip on top: people helping others to make the days at Kiski more than just seven continuous periods of classes.

Ask to have a grade transcript mailed to Indiana or Penn State, borrow a pencil before first period, look up a magazine article for your senior theme — you'll find a willing helper.

This, then, is what PEOPLE at Kiski are.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

8:10

The day begins with the arrival of buses, tardy students, and a moment of meditation.

(Left: Mr. Harold J. Bush, high school principal, reads the morning announcements over the P.A. system).

ADMINISTRATION . . .

Nerve Center for An Active School Day

Arrangements must be made for an endless variety of services: distributing supplies, repairing a cold univent, or repotting the geraniums in the patio vases.

(Right: Mr. Joseph Stonevice, custodian, and Mr. Bush check the list of rooms to be used for evening classes).

The Where, When, and Who of Commencement Week must be relayed to the Valley Daily News and the News-Citizen. Or a state trooper from the North Washington barracks calls to warn of icy roads.

Discussion and decision: How much credit should be given to semester tests? Mr. James Daniels, new assistant principal, and Mrs. Katherine Phillips, secretary, listen as Mr. Bush reviews recommendations made by the Principal's Advisory Council.

4:00

The day ends with the covering of typewriters, the clearing of desks, and the lowering of the gate in the office.

SENIORS

"Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might," the senior motto, has really been appropriate for the class of 1964. With Miss Shultz, these 290 ambitious seniors have all cooperated in work or play. They went Christmas caroling, followed by a party at Cheryl Brady's home; they went all night bowling at Lee's; they had car washes and sold candy for their prom. Everyone helped make the Senior Class Play, The Mouse That Roared, a success.

In addition to the motto, the seniors chose green and white as their colors, and the white rose as the class flower.

JUNIORS

The class of 1965 — 630 strong — had the majority of students at Kiski Area. They carried on projects such as selling candy and sweat shirts to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom under the supervision of Miss McElhaney. Early in the term Anthony Guinta was elected as president, Lois Hrivnak as vice-president, Vicki Mrazik as secretary, and Jackie Maffeo as treasurer. A Junior Assembly was presented in April. They made preparations for their senior year by selecting class colors, motto, and a class flower. In addition, they maintained their own flower fund throughout the year.

This year's sophomore class numbered 410, the second largest of the three classes. Of that number, over half were girls — 223.

ART AND ASTRONOMY CLUBS

The Art Club consists of thirty members who organized because they either enjoy art as a hobby, plan to further their art education, or want to learn more about art possibilities. Mr. Wolfe, art instructor, is the club's sponsor.

Highlights of the year's activities included the designing of original Christmas cards and a guest speaker, Mr. Matthews of the Pittsburgh Art Institute.

The Astronomy Club was created to try to give interested science students an idea of the nature of astronomy for its value as a science and as a hobby.

The club held a dance and several bake sales to raise funds to build a twelve and one-half inch reflecting telescope which took several months to complete. When completed, it was valued at approximately $2,000.

HI-Y CLUBS

A common purpose is shared by both the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y (pp. 100-101), "... to develop Christian personality and a Christian society."

In the Hi-Y this theme is reflected in the club's guest speakers. Included were the Reverend Allen retelling "The Roman Soldier's Version of Christmas," Mr. Daniels speaking on "What the Hi-Y Meant to Me," and Mr. Miller who discussed philosophy. Other club activities included a Civil Defense program, competitive basketball, and a dance. They also attended All-Sports Day in Butler.

The Tri-Hi-Y acted as the good Samaritan in giving baskets to needy families and baking cookies for the Westmoreland County Children's Home. The girls also sold Kiski litter bags and stationery to help support the club's purposes.

MATH, SPANISH AND DEBATE

El Circulo espanol began the year with the purpose in mind to learn more about the Spanish language, customs, and people. Miss Stevenson and Miss Klingensmith with the support of their 40 members were able to carry these plans through. Also, the club enjoyed many speakers including Adrianna Estevister, a foreign exchange student. An unusual surprise for the members was the receiving of Spanish pen pals.

The newly-formed Debate Club, headed by Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Ripper, has 24 members, 20 of whom are seniors. Their purpose is to acquaint students with good debating procedures.

The Society of Amateur Mathematicians, better known around Kiski as the Math Club, consists of 21 members, four of whom are seniors. The purpose of this club is to further one's knowledge in math. The sponsor is Miss Gregory.

F.B.L.A., F.T.A., LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club is a group with the purpose of assisting its sponsor and Kiski's librarian, Mr. Kulas. This club also enables its members to further their knowledge, and to aid other students in the school's library. Besides working in the library, the thirty-five members have enjoyed many group activities.

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mr. Mintus, gives interested students a background in teaching. This year the eighty-five members have been busy sponsoring bake sales, attending conventions, and student teaching.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Wingert, the approximately seventy members of the Future Business Leaders were especially noted for turning the tunnel into a cloakroom to check coats at basketball games.

HUNTING, PHOTO CLUBS

Mr. Cappo and Mr. Borgo are in charge of the large (over 200) Hunting and Fishing Club, whose purpose is teaching safety. Mr. Martinisko, game warden, gave a nine-week National Rifle Association course, after which a test was given and those who passed were awarded their N.R.A. safety patches.

The Kiski Area Photo Club under the supervision of Mr. Prusack has held meetings in which they learned the techniques of developing and processing film as well as how to take better pictures. They took and developed several dozen photos for the Campus.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club, newly-formed to boost school spirit at Kiski, has been tremendously successful in doing just that. Under the direction of Miss Stevenson, the Club enlivened pep rallies with skits and stunts intended to boost student morale. The club purchased uniforms and attended games as a group, exemplifying the high level of school spirit at Kiski. Left: Club members remain after school to prepare decorations for Friday's pep rally.

JAZZ AND DRAMA:

Ensemble, Stage Crew, Dramatic Club

The Jazz Ensemble, although a small group of only eight members with one Senior, provided enjoyment for the group and many others. Under Mr. McClelland, it provided entertainment in the jazz idiom that could not be otherwise presented. They appeared at the Apollo exchange assembly, Christmas Program, and the Annual Spring Concert.

The Stage Crew of twelve members, including six Seniors, is sponsored by Mr. Tarosky and Mr. DeSantis. This group fixed the scenery and helped out in stage productions. They were very helpful in arranging scenery for the Senior Class Play.

The Dramatic Club provided interested students with experience in dramatics. They entertained the faculty and student body with their humorous program in April. The club of 50 members is sponsored by Mrs. Coleman, Miss Govich, and Mr. Pagliarulo.

STUDENT COUNCIL,

AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB

This year Harry Laughner headed Student Council. Sallie Smith was secretary-treasurer. Assisting these two seniors were Richard Barbour, vice-president and Cindy Floyd, assistant secretary-treasurer. Six homeroom officers from each class worked under the direction of the Council officers. President and secretary of each class were on the roster also. Mr. Bush and Mrs. O'Bryan sponsored the organization. The club had several purposes: it acted as a median between the student body and the faculty, spread the common interests of the school to promote a sense of unity in the student body, and helped the school maintain a good standing in the community.

The seventy-four members of the Audio-Visual Club and Mr. Mullen had the task of maintaining and operating the audio-visual equipment. They were in charge of scheduling the loan of equipment to various teachers and the showing of movies in classes. This kept them so active that they were unable to find time for extra projects.

The Kiskizette staff and Newspaper Club work jointly to produce the school paper. The Kiskizette. This monthly publication features a sports page and editorial columns, as well as photos and articles concerning current student activities.

A GAME IS . . .

Weeks of Preparation, Perspiration,

Tackling, Blocking

High Hopes, High Spirits

and Work, Work, Work . . .

The rhythmic, counting voices of the perspiring squad fills the hot, Indian-summer air. It is late August and the vacation-abandoned school's athletic oval is now filled with promising athletes and busy coaches. Twice a day, Mr. Dilts leads his Cavaliers in the routine three laps and fifty push-ups. The football season has unofficially begun.

The official season will begin September 6, with a drum roll and the kickoff. But, by that time, the team's resources will have been determined, and the boys will know their strengths and weaknesses. They will be well prepared for each of their ten games. The coach has planned his strategy according to the individual opposing team's scouting reports. His team will not be half-prepared.

When backed by the roaring crowd, thundering drums, and flashing school colors, the boys, no doubt, think only of the game. But the hours of previous practice will pay big dividends.

THE LONG, TALL SEASON

The Cavalier basketball team ended their season as they had begun it — with a victory. Enclosed within these victories was a long grueling season, made up of disheartening losses, exhilarating wins, and the inevitable hours of re-practice. Four times the Cavaliers battled from behind, only to lose heartbreakingly in the last quarter. Contrasted to this were four fast-paced games that had Kiski fans nail-biting to the victorious end.

Kiski's new coach, Mr. Meighan, sums the season up by saying, "The boys had a lot of desire, but lacked height and experience. With a few breaks, a couple of games could have been won in overtime. You can't take it away from the players. They gave everything."

On September 9th, the swimming team began their rigorous two week pre-season training of weight lifting and lap-running. A week before their season opened the emphasis changed, when speed and sprints were concentrated on. Each night the boys swam from 2,000 to 3,000 yards.

At the Tarentum meet, a record was set by Frank Retter, the 100 yard backstroke, done in 1 min. 06.6 sec. Sylvester, the rubber duck mascot, encouraged his team at every meet this year. Mr. Vaughn, the coach, is in his sixth season of coaching. His first four years were at Vandergrift and the last two at Kiski.

People . . . who have helped us — the nineteen sixty-four Campus owes many thanks to all who have helped directly or indirectly; Dr. Mearl F. Gerheim, superintendent

, Mr. Harold J. Bush, principal

, and Mr. James R. Daniels, assistant principal

. Thanks also to the 1355 students and to the 63 teachers .

For supplementary photographs we thank Kiski Area High School Photo Club, The

Valley Daily News, and The News-Citizen. To the American Yearbook Company

we express appreciation for their co-operation and encouragement.

Finally, we want to commend the members of the Campus Staff , our editors, and — for his patience and willingness to experiment — Mr. Thomas

F. Shaffer

, our photographer.
